I got up around 9:00 o'clock ready to go to the next place but didn't leave until after I ate dinner. It was good - Fresh Backbone and potatoes. Then I started on another 6 hour walk across the mountains to a bigger office and was very tired again. I again was stopped for handshaking and admiration. I went to bed and slept 13 hours. I have been getting 3 meals per day and very tasty.

This day I was taken to another office, and I must be a king for then I got a ride in a wagon, but I would rather have walked because I thought the wagon was going to fall down the mountains, but we made it.

Here I ran on to an old fellow who could speak English very well so he took me to his house and fed me and got me a bed to another place. They ask me all kinds of questions about America.

I found out that I had to stay here until some more fellows came which would be a couple of days. I met an Austrian boy who speaks English very well so I am his guest. He is a very clean fellow.
