Stayed last night at a better place and saw some folk dances and heard a radio in Croatian - of course it had to be translated.

Stayed here again and met another pilot so I am not alone. Am to stay at a different place or bed, the people are very hospitable.

Just loafing around mostly. Saw some German planes go over. Could hear them bombing. Had tea at one of the houses. Americans are God to them. Clark the other pilot is good company.

Went down a week ago today and my anniversary hasn't been such a good one. The Germans are dropping bombs about 5 to 10 miles from here and also flying over this place but didn't drop any bombs. It seems to be the opinion that we will get it shortly. May be this afternoon or tomorrow. I have been in the woods all morning
